

Grace Spencer

VP Marketing & Product Management

 LinkedIn

Grace Spencer is an attendance expert who helped build School Innovations & Achievement (SI&A) over 25 years. Grace currently serves as VP of Product Management for SchoolStatus Attend, overseeing the expansion of delivery methods, incorporating digital communications, and diversifying Attendance Communication Campaigns. Grace's proven leadership, combined with her knowledge of the education sector and creative approach, enables her to spearhead the development of innovative new products to support educators, parents, and students. She is excited about finding new ways to design communication strategies to help educators provide important information that speaks to the concerns and interests of students and families.

As a parent, Grace recognizes the vital role of family involvement in education. She believes in the power of education for all children and emphasizes the crucial link between student achievement and attendance. Beyond her professional world, Grace enjoys a rich family and social life, engaging in activities like cooking, entertaining, gardening, and pursuing hobbies like crocheting, tennis, and pickleball.

Contact schoolstatus@0to5.com or call 917-748-4006 for media & speaking inquiries.